COMPANY FORMED TO OPERATE MINE

Old Dominion Sulphur Corporation to Develop Property in Pyrites Belt.

HOME OFFICE IN RICHMOND

Charter Granted by State, Maximum Capital Being Half a Million Dollars.

A charter was granted yesterday by the State Corporation Commission to the Old Dominion Sulphur Corporation, of Richmond, a mining company with a capital stock of $500,000. While the money invested is nearly all from the North, the home office will be located here, and the mining property lies ten and a half miles from Fredericksburg, in Stafford county, in the rich pyrites belt which runs from the south shore of the Potomac River to the Carolina border.

The company, organized primarily to take over and operate the mine known as Austin Run, will eventually assume other mines in the belt. With the Austin Run the company purchases three miles of railway, with a terminal and wharf on Aquia Creek, a tributary of the Potomac. The company plans to build a branch line which will give an outlet of about 200 tons per day, this being about one-third of the total present output of the fertile belt. Of the entire sulphur output of the United States, Virginia, with this pyrites belt, supplies more than 50 per cent. Ninety per cent of the sulphur consumed in this country is imported from the brimstone mines of Spain, Virginia supplying 5 per cent of the total, and the rest of the United States yielding only 5 per cent.

To Begin Operations at Once.
It is planned by the Old Dominion Sulphur Company to begin operations at once. A ready market for sulphur is found in the powder industry, the munitions fish companies and fertilizer plants. This is the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, the famous Arminius mines, and the Dumfries mine are located in the Virginia Pyrites belt. Power for the Austin Run mines will be obtained from the new plant of the Fredericksburg Power Company, over a high power line to be installed from the mines to the Fredericksburg plant.

The officers of the company are Albert Fogg, Camden, N. J., president; C. C. Walton, Norfolk, vice-president; John S. Kell, Richmond, secretary and treasurer; Irving E. Campbell, of Richmond, and Judge Alvin T. Embrey, of Fredericksburg, are counsel for the company.

Organization of another large mining company, with headquarters in Richmond, became known yesterday, when the State Corporation Commission granted a charter to the American Mining and Exploration Corporation, with a maximum capital of $100,000 and a minimum of $10,000. Frank Jay Gould, principal owner of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, is president; Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, vice-president, and Arthur Kelley, of New York, secretary.

NO VERDICT YET

Jury Out More Than an Hour in Railway Damage Suit.

After having been out for more than an hour, the jury in the damage suit of Lucy Bugg against the Virginia Railway and Power Company was adjourned last night by Judge Crump until this morning at 10 o'clock, when another attempt will be made to arrive at a verdict.

The case began on trial in the law and equity court all the week. Miss Bugg, who is principal owner of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, is president; Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, vice-president, and Arthur Kelley, of New York, secretary.

MUST GET DOG LICENSES

Police on Trial of Owners Who Fail to Pay Tax.

The entire police department is now energetically engaged in making reports of the names of all owners of unlicensed dogs. Many reports have been made daily in all of the districts for the past week, and unless the owners get their dogs licensed by the end of the month, they will be liable to a fine of $10.00. Already a large number of summonses have been issued.

Patrolman W. B. Whitlock, of 1100 Taylor Street, who is the possessor of several blooded dogs, says that he has paid his tax on all of his animals but one, for fear, he said, of being fined. He has been looking for a dog to keep a lookout for his pup.

The latest deal, recorded yesterday afternoon in the county clerk's office, registers a price of $1,500 per acre paid for an unimproved tract of land one mile north of the Fair Grounds.

SMALLPOX CASE IN GODDIN STREET

Negro Who Worked at Belvidere and Cary Removed to County Hospital.

DISEASE EASILY TRACED

Victim Contracted It From Man Who Worked in Tobacco Factory.

Vernel Tinsley, a colored man twenty-six years of age, was moved to the city smallpox hospital yesterday from his home, 414 1/2 Goddin Street, suffering with a clear case of the disease. He had never been vaccinated.

The eruption appeared on Thursday, and after being reported to the health officials yesterday morning, Dr. C. C. Hudson, medical inspector, traced the source of contagion to Charles Payne, a negro who worked for J. L. W. Vaughan at Shockey Ship, and who had an unrecognized case of smallpox.

Tinsley worked up to last Saturday at Slew's lumber yard, corner of Belvidere and Cary Streets. All of the inmates of his house were vaccinated and quarantined for observation and the place fumigated. Hattie Ryland, of 419 West Baker Street, was also quarantined in the house, having been exposed to the disease.

Payne lived at 1602 West Leigh Street, and broke out about March 1, having contracted the disease from Walter Merryman, who worked at the tobacco factory of L. N. Vaughan & Co.

Vaccinations were put in work in the neighborhood of Tinsley's house on Goddin Street, and any citizen may secure free vaccination by calling at the City Hall this morning.

Dr. Hudson said last night that he would urgently recommend a general vaccination of all negroes employed in factories, among whom practically all the cases of smallpox have been developed. Vaccination of school children for years past has practically stamped the disease out so far as Richmond people are concerned, but the factories constantly attract newcomers from the outside, and none of whom has been vaccinated on coming to work.

GIRL 4 YEARS OLD SEEKS DAMAGES

Bitten by Dogs, She Sues Owner and Demands Three Thousand Dollars.

Asking $3,000 for three severe dog bites, suit was instituted yesterday in City Circuit Court in behalf of Miss Sophie Schwartz, a four-year-old child, who sues through her father as next friend, against Charles E. Strang, owner of the dogs.

The alleged attack occurred on March 20, and the child is said to be still suffering intensely from the wounds received. Three dogs, belonging to the Strang family, attacked the child, and bitten three times, each time on the nose, and that since March 20 her parents have expended more than $150 for medical attendance and treatment. Mr. Strang, owner of the dogs, lives at 3111 East Broad Street, and claims that the child was negligent on the part of Mr. Strang in allowing vicious dogs at large, it being asserted that two animals belonging to him that they were known to their owner as being "used and accustomed to attack mankind," while the third dog is described as "ferocious animal having a propensity to attack and bite children."

The child is represented by Attorney Alfred E. Cohen.

CITY PRIMARY ON TUESDAY, APRIL 30

Date Fixed for Election of Mayor, One Alderman and Members of Council.

OLD BY-LAWS ARE ADOPTED

Plan and Assessment Will Be Agreed Upon and Reported at Later Meeting.

At a peaceful meeting of the City Democratic Committee, held last night in Murphy's Hotel Annex, Tuesday, April 26, was fixed as the date for the municipal primary to nominate members of the Common Council, one Alderman and a Mayor. The meeting was entirely free of debate or contest, and was in session less than an hour.

The plan upon which the municipal election will be held, as well as the amount and method of assessment, was left to the committees on plans and finance, respectively. These will report their recommendations at the next meeting of the full committee. The business of importance was the election of superintendents and assistant superintendents from the four wards.

Adopt Old By-Laws.
Miles M. Martin called the meeting to order at 8:30 o'clock, thirty-two of the city members being present. The membership committee, which had met on Thursday at 1 o'clock, recommended that the by-laws governing the City Committee, as constituted under the old eight-ward plan, be adopted as the rules of the committee under the four-ward plan, and that article 2 be amended to require the election of eight members from each of the new wards instead of five from each of the old ones.

The recommendation of the membership committee was adopted unanimously. Under the amended rule, the City Democratic Committee will hereafter consist of thirty-two instead of forty members. The by-laws were adopted with the understanding that they will be referred to committee on the new primary law as soon as the latter goes into effect.

J. M. Purcell and R. R. Florence were elected members of the city committee from Clay Ward to bring up the required quota of eight. As at present constituted the wards are represented as follows: Jefferson, 10; Madison, 10; Lee, 11, and Clay, 8. Gus A. Wolfe, of Lee Ward, has since his election been created a justice of the peace, which, under the constitution of the committee, disqualifies him for membership. All members will serve until the expiration of their terms, when new elections will take place on the basis of eight from each ward.

Election Superintendents.
Upon motion of Clyde W. Saunders, the chair was vacated five minutes to permit the representatives of the several wards to hold a caucus for the purpose of nominating a superintendent and assistant superintendent from each. At the expiration of the time the chair was resumed and the reports adopted unanimously. The only split occurred in Jefferson Ward, the majority reporting George C. Davis for superintendent, and minority favoring E. C. Hicks.

The two wards were put before the committee for a vote, and Mr. Hicks, the minority candidate, won out, 17 to 16. Upon motion the election was made unanimous, and Mr. Davis was elected assistant superintendent.

Standing Committees.
The chair appointed the following standing committees: Finance Committee: Chas. V. Carrington, P. J. Lenahan, A. W. Brown, Samuel Steiner, Wm. C. Pulliam, E. W. Evans, Charles E. Mosby. Plans Committee: Clyde W. Saunders, Wm. E. Taylor, James H. Price, Frank Ferrandini, R. P. Shattuck, J. M. N. Allen, Richard N. Goode. Executive Committee: William R. Jones, E. B. Jennings, J. P. Pettis, James E. Hart, Hugh M. O'Neill, E. J. Fagan, M. T. Rogers.

Rules Committee: W. M. Myers, David Connell, Horace B. Burnett, J. M. Blanks, Jesse A. Ladd, J. L. Redford, George P. Day, J. H. Jennings, J. P. Pettis, James E. Hart, Hugh M. O'Neill, E. J. Fagan, M. T. Rogers.

Auditing Committee: R. R. Florence, W. A. Meredith, J. M. Purcell, H. N. Mason, J. A. Baber, E. C. Hicks, C. W. Hodges.

Printing Committee: Walter G. Dunbar, Charles R. Powles, Earle Sibley.

BLUE AND GRAY TO MEET IN JUNE

New York Veterans Will Join Lee Camp at Gaines's Mill on Anniversary.

On the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gaines's Mill, the surviving veterans of the Fifth New York Volunteer Infantry, Duryea Zouaves, will clasp hands with the gray-clad warriors of Lee Camp, No. 1, on the field of that memorable fight. Such is the plan outlined in a letter received last night by Lee Camp from officers of the Fifth New York and enthusiastically welcomed by the Confederate veterans.

The anniversary of Gaines's Mill, coming in the month of June, at a time most convenient for a holiday, is certain to attract a great joint reunion of the one-time enemies. While the plans of the celebration are somewhat indefinite just now, it is known that the New York veterans hope to spend at least two days in Richmond and the surrounding battlefields. According to the letter received last night, the New Yorkers will make the trip to Richmond by water. How many veterans Zouaves will come is yet to be determined, but almost the full strength of the veteran association is expected. Robert Daly, Peter Wagner and Alfred Atkins have been named as the New York expedition.

Lee Camp will arrange a fitting reception for the visitors, will entertain them during their short stay in Richmond, and a delegation, if not all the camp, will accompany the Zouaves on their tour of the battlefields around the battlefield during the Seven Days' fights.

On motion of D. A. Brown, a committee of three was appointed by Lee Camp last night to select fifteen delegates to represent the Lee Camp at the reunion of the battle of Gaines's Mill, the reunion of Confederate Veterans.

Carter readily assented to return the coat when the detective took a hand, but the officer decided to put him under arrest as a suspicious character. He went to the hotel and in Carter's room found the coat and took it and the prisoner to the station house.

He made several efforts to secure a bondman, but was unsuccessful.

THUMBS DOWN ON VOTES FOR WOMEN

Richmond College Debaters Settle Vexed Question in Intersociety Contest.

It is settled, Virginia women are not to be permitted to follow in the footsteps of their giddy California sisters, and for many moons yet to come are to go voiceless. Three judges, in solemn convocation assembled, after listening to two hours of able argument pro and con, voted last night two to one to award the decision to the Philological Literary Society of Richmond College, supporting the negative side of the question. "Resolved, That equal suffrage should be given to the women of Virginia."

In thus turning their thumbs down on the Mu Sigma Rho debaters, who presented argument in favor of giving the diver the ballot, the judges reinforced the recent action of the last Virginia House of Delegates, and, in the opinion of a number of the students, administered so decisive a blow to the woman suffrage movement that not even the oxygen tanks of the West Virginia miners will be powerful enough to instill into it again the breath of life.

It was the occasion of the annual intersociety debate at Richmond College, and the entire academic colony, as well as a large number from the city, turned out to hear the boys talk. The college chapel in which the debate was held was filled to overflowing. In the audience were a number of local suffragettes and a fair sprinkling from the recently organized society opposed to woman suffrage. Lively cheering and clapping as the debaters clinched and scored on one another helped to enliven the occasion.

G. V. McManaway and G. H. L. Winfrey, Mu Sigma Rho, supported the affirmative side of the question, and E. W. Peyton and E. C. Price supported the winning negative side. The presiding officers were C. T. O'Neill, president, Mu Sigma Rho, and L. S. Gilliam, vice-president, Philological. The judges were T. A. Lewis, R. W. Durrett and T. J. Smith, Jr.

JAMES RIVER ON RAMPAGE TO-DAY

Rise of Fifteen Feet in Richmond Indicated by Columbia Gauge Figures.

At 2 o'clock this morning the Chesapeake and Ohio gauge at Columbia indicated the river to be 20 feet high, and falling.

Indicating a rise of fifteen feet in James River at this point by midday to-day, covering the wharves and lower sections of the city, fresher rainfalls were issued last night by the Weather Bureau, the Old Dominion Steamship Company and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. The indicated rise will fall two or three feet below that of two weeks ago, when several streets in the lower section were submerged, and when water rose in the Old Market. The Chesapeake and Ohio gauge at Columbia reported twenty-four feet and rising at 6 o'clock, and on receipt of that warning the Old Dominion Steamship Company began moving out all perishable goods from its lower warehouse. At 10:30 o'clock the gauge showed twenty-five feet and four inches.

The rise thereafter was slow, the gauge at 10 o'clock showing twenty-five feet eight inches, still rising slowly. The belief was expressed that the maximum rise at Columbia would not exceed twenty-six feet, which would mean about fifteen feet here—two feet less than the freshest of two weeks ago. Many of those along the river front, who vacated their cellars and lower storerooms at the approach of the former rise, had not moved back, and with the ample notice which was given last night of the anticipated rise to-day, it is believed that the damage here will be slight, unless the recent rains in the upper sections of the State greatly augment the expected flood.
